NEW YORK, April 25 .- The short ses sion this morning was attended with considerable activity well distributed throughout the list, and with a firm tone, despite the fact that there were some stocks that were lower than at the close yesterday, and some that were higher. It was, in a way, a spotty market-spots of strength and spots of weakness, with shorts at times nervous and anxious to cover, and again with the bulls taking in their profits rather more freely than might have been expected, in view of the latent strength

While brokers and commission house were generally sending out bullish gos-on nerve, and also on the inside influthe successful flotation of the various bond and note issues during the past week. There is nothing in the railroad situation in so far as earnings are concerned to cause any better feeling, and the resolution of the various wash. Ry. and Elec. com. 31½ Wash. 'Pennsylvania." is the word that the traders are conjuring with and standing by on Wall Street. It is their hope for higher prices, their mainstay in the bull news-Pernsylvania, Pennsylvania. And all because the company's standing was sufficiently satisfactory to bring out bids many times over for the bonds desired. Pennsylvania meant a real oom market yesterday. Pennsylvania was the leaverige to push Union Pacific St. Paul, Reading, and some other stocks to higher prices than they have attained for some time.

Union Pacific is preparing to finance a big bond loan. If Union Pacific does as well as did Pennsylvania, then it U. S. Trust. will be added to the rallying cry-al-

Few Important Changes.

There were comparatively few i portant changes either way. St. Pa was a strong point in the active rail adding 1% to the close of yesterda Pennsylvania moved up a point a Jersey Central 3. These, with a po covered the important gains, althou Illinois Central, an inactive stock, add the strong points in the industrials.

The high-grade rails, other than as mentioned, were 1/20% lower, or within 1/30 either way from yesterday's closing. An exception was found in Delaware and Hudson, which after its phenomenal advance of vesterday and Thursday. 2 points. Tobacco and Leather were advance of yesterday and Thursday, re-acted 1½ points.

The closing of the market was fairly firm, tone good, and unless no untoward influences mar the opening week, the market is likely to be good for the rest of the month, perhaps longer. But it is dangerous, and quick turns are but the dictates of wisdom.

to 661-4-Washington Railway Shares Scarce.

Washington' Gae made a new high rec on this advance, when it touched and closed at 66%, a good point higher than Friday's close. Evidently the 90-cent gas measure contains no terrors for the nvestors in Gas. The plans of the company are ready for the emergency what-ever it may be, and once understood, are believed to warrant the recent advance from 60@60%. The stock was ex-dividence this week, which practically makes 6714 for the closing, dividend on. There was the usual bidding for Washngton railway shares and, while prices were advanced, there was but little stock for sale, and this held considerably above the bid price. This was true of both common and preferred is-

PRICES FOR PRODUCE 1 IN WASHINGTON TODAY

Conditions in local produce were better this morning than they have been for several days. Receipts of all goods were very liberal and an active demand kept prices at good figures.

Another drop in strawberries brought hem down to 7 and 10 cents a quart for the best grades. Branch berries nade their first appearance today, but in small quantities. As soon as this grade begins to come in, good prices are expected to drop again.

There was no change in live and dressed meats and the grain market Prices are:

MOTHER FATALLY HURT, LEAVING HER DYING SON

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.-Less than nalf an hour after leaving the bedside of her son, who is critically ill in the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital, suffering from an attack of typhoid pneumonia, Mrs. J. T. Allen, Wife of a prominent hambersburg, Pa., citizen, sustained inuries by falling from a trolley car, which resulted in her death. The woman's son, Paul Allen, a third year medical student at the Medico-Chirurgical College, is lying at the point of death, unaware of his mother's tragic end.

Mrs. Allen had been summoned from her home in Chambersburg to the hospital by a message stating that her son was critically ill. She remained at the bedside of her son until the boy had fallen into a peaceful slumber. Then she took a Thirteenth street car for the home of a friend. In alighting she fell and was thrown against the curb, sustaining a fracture at the base of the skull.

DISCUSSES LAWS

International Codification Subject of Much Interest.

The codification of international laws was the subject under discussion at the morning session today of the Amer-United States vs. Frank Rogers and Charles Roberts; robbery; motion for new trial filed. Attorneys, Irving Williamson and Campbell Carrington.

United States vs. Benjamin Herbert; who was one of the delegates from the United States to the last Hague Peace Conference, presided it Newport. Prof. Brown said that the officers in attendance at the college, all of them of mature years, concern emselves only with unsettled questions of international law, and that they had worked so successfully along these lines that foreign nations not only adopted a similar course, and in some nstances adopted like codes for the use of their officers, but that The Hague conference adopted some of the rule laid down for the guidance of American officers in time of war.

Despite the general belief that the primary object of the war college was o devise means for inflicting terrible mishment on the enemy, Prof. Brown said that the officers are not anxious to make the severity of war any greater than is absolutely necessary, and their lans are devoted as much to studying he manner in which international comlications may be avoided, as to methds to be pursued after war has been eclared.

As an illustration of the work done at the college, the speaker said that two years before the war with Spain vas declared the officers at Newport and studied what moves should be made had studied what moves should be made in the event of such a conflict.

eGneral Porter said that as a delegate to The Hague he could testify to the great amount of information and expert advice which had been given by the officers at the Naval War College.

Jackson H. Raiston, of Washington, who was the first attorney to submit a case to The Hague for arbitration, spoke specifically on the subject of the codification of international law and dwelt at length on the laws of intervention.

There were further discussions at the afternoon session, after which it was afternoon session, after which it was planed to elect officers. Tonicht the members will attend a banquet at the New Willard.
